Youth Star of Tomorrow

Ashley N. Porter loves to bowl. She is the 18 year old daughter of Kim and Todd Porter of Owings Mills, Maryland. She was raised in a bowling alley all of her life. Her dad Todd, works at Bowlers Discount Pro Shop, was a Class C-mechanic and worked as a front counter associate and was general manager of AMF Kingspoint for a brief time. Ashley is a graduate of Hereford High School's Class of 2014 and she graduated with a 3.58 GPA and had a QPA of 4.17. She was captain of her Allied Bowling team for all 4 years along with achieving honor roll for all semesters. Her team also went undefeated this year in their division and placed in the top 5 and above for the last 4 years. Ashley played a very big role in her team at Hereford because of the fact that she motivated her team and was able to coach her teammates whenever they needed it. When matches got close she was always there to finish the job and seal the win for her team. Ashley was also a member of Chinese Culture Club, Growers Club, Envirothon, and Future Farmers of America. She took much pride in her school work but even more pride in her bowling.

As most people know, Ashley has always been a pro shop/bowling alley kid, meaning that she spent her weekends at the pro shop, learning and observing everything that the bowling industry had to offer her. She was always bowling and spent many hours in her second home known as the pro shop. She started bowling at the age of 3 and joined her first league at the age of 8. In 2001, at the age of 5 years old she won her first tournament with her dad in the Thanksgiving Parent Child tournament and from that point on was the beginning of the journey for the Porter family.

Ashley is a very talented girl and has always been known to take charge when things get tough. She has one plan and one plan only in life. She wants to become a women's professional bowler and be able to start her own independent bowling center. She has no other plans to do anything else in her life because she knows that bowling is what she wants to do and she is determined to make her dream a reality.

Most people in the world give up on their dreams but when you only have one option, some have to risk it all for what they truly want and in this case this award shows that Ashley Porter is on the road to success
